

Anneke Franken van Bloemendaal

Lawyer and Partner

Anneke has been a lawyer since 2006. She specialises in environmental law, administrative law, planning and zoning law, the granting of permits and enforcement. Anneke advises and litigates on environmental plans and (environmental) permits for - for instance - offices, hotels, commercial and residential developments. She also has extensive experience with land exploitation and environmental and nature conservation law aspects such as nitrogen, noise, traffic, and parking. Anneke acts mainly for building developers and institutional and private investors, but also represents public authorities, civil-law notaries, estate agents, architects, property users and interest groups. Furthermore, she has extensive experience in administrative law enforcement cases and general administrative law matters, such as operating licences, compensation for loss resulting from administrative acts, subsidies, the Public Administration (Probity Screening) Act, the Open Government Act, and the enforcement of the Alcohol Act and Tobacco Act. Anneke has extensive experience in litigating before appeals committees, courts and the Administrative Law Division of the Council of State. She also publishes regularly in academic journals. She is a permanent annotator for the Tijdschrift voor Bouwrecht.

In 2006, Anneke completed her studies of Dutch law cum laude at the University of Amsterdam. During her studies she spent a semester at Columbia University in New York and in the final year of her studies she worked as a legal researcher at the University of Amsterdam. After graduating, Anneke worked as a lawyer at Brinkhof from 2006 to 2010, where she gained her knowledge of and experience in administrative law and European law. Before Anneke joined Sight, she worked as an environmental and administrative lawyer at Hemwood, where she further expanded her knowledge and practice in the field of environmental and planning law. She joined Sight Advocaten as a partner on the 1st of September 2022.

Anneke is a board member of ULI Next (Urban Land Institute) and a board member of the Young Collectors Circle. She is also a member of the Construction Law Association (VBR) and the Administrative Law Association (VAR). Anneke provides in-house courses for her clients on request. Anneke has registered the following main areas and subareas of law in the Register of Legal Practice Areas of the Netherlands Bar Association: Environmental Law. On the grounds of that registration, she is required to obtain ten CPD points in each registered main area of law every calendar year, in accordance with the standards of the Netherlands Bar Association.
